

STREET GUIDE.

Oakland is regularly laid out, streets generally crossing each other at right angles. The numbering of streets running North and South begin at South Front Street; and that on streets running East and West on East Front Street. Fifty numbers are allotted to each block, except in instances where it is necessary to use a less or greater number to carry out the general plan, which is that the numbers on each tier of blocks shall be identical throughout the city. Numbers have been placed on the houses in only a limited portion of the city, hence there is great difficulty in correctly locating the inhabitants. Recently, however, by the enterprise of the proprietors of BISHOP'S DIRECTORY, a general numbering of the houses throughout the entire city has been inaugurated, an improvement which will greatly facilitate the publication of the Directory, and which will be of great benefit and convenience to the public.
