

With this guaranty of security from change, it looks forward to an era of ampler development and greater usefulness.

The departments of instruction comprise the following:—

1. Letters and Science—Including the College of Letters or Classical Course, the Colleges of Agriculture, Mechanics, Mining, Civil Engineering and Chemistry, the Literary Course, the Course in Letters and Political Science, and certain irregular courses.
2. Law—The Hastings College of the Law.
3. Medicine—The Toland College of Medicine.
4. Dentistry—The College of Dentistry.
5. Pharmacy—The College of Pharmacy.

The general funds of the University are devoted to the College of Letters and of Science. The Colleges of Medicine, Dentistry, and Pharmacy are self-supporting. The College of the Law has a separate endowment.

The University of California is a State institution, established by the Legislature in accordance with the constitution, and intrusted to the care of a Board of Regents, which includes the Governor, the Lieutenant-Governor, the Speaker of the Assembly, the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, the President of the State Agricultural Society, the President of the Mechanics' Institute of San Francisco, the President of the University, and sixteen other Regents appointed by the Governor and approved by the Senate.

To this body of Regents the State has committed the administration of the University, including the finances, care of property, appointment of teachers, and determination of the interior organization in all particulars not already determined by law.

The resources from which the University is maintained are derived from various sources, and include the following endowments:—

1. The Seminary Fund and Public Building Fund, granted to the State by Congress.
2. The property received from the College of California, including the site at Berkeley.
3. The fund derived from the Congressional land grant of July 2, 1862.
4. The Tide Land Fund appropriated by the State.
5. Specific appropriations by the Legislature for buildings, current expenses, etc.
6. The gift of individuals.
