

Service that Satisfies

Next to your live-wire human salesman you have one other sure method of getting in direct contact with each and every prospect on your list.

The mailman carries your message direct to the personal attention of the buyer.

This message can be in the form of letters, booklets, catalogs, mailing folders or any kind of mail literature that tells the story.

In the planning of layout, color scheme type display and in the supervision of the engraving and printing of direct mail advertising you can profitably employ
