M E D I C A L C O L L E G E,

S A N F R A N C I S C O, C A L.

The annual Course of Lectures of this Institution commences on the first Monday of June, and continues four months.

During the regular term, the students will have an opportunity of visiting the various hospitals of the city, under circumstances which will enable them to observe medical and surgical treatment, to listen to clinical teaching, and make records of the progressive development of diseases, with the results of Medicine and Hygiene. The Faculty desire to call attention to the following local advantages:

1st. There is no climate, perhaps, in the world, which has a more invigorating effect upon persons coming from the interior of our States and Territories, thereby qualifying the votaries of study with essential health and inspiration. 2d. No city of the same population has more ample hospital facilities or greater opportunities for organizing and maintaining the very best elements of clinical teaching. 3d. The singular characteristics of our climate are such, that every branch of Medical study can be prosecuted during the entire year. In winter or summer, dissections can be made without detriment to the health of the student.
