

DR. HALE'S CHAMPION Steam Cooker

Diploma Granted at Mechanics' Fair, Boston, Mass., 1878.

Every variety of Meats, Vegetables, Puddings, Rice, Hominy, etc., cooked by steam

WITHOUT MINGLING THE FLAVORS.

Used on any STOVE, RANGE or FURNACE. Emits no offensive odor, and cannot possibly burn the food. SAVES TIME, LABOR AND FUEL. Every lady who tries it is enthusiastic in praising it.

Read the following from Mrs. C. A. Vinton, the well-known caterer for Massachusetts Building, at the Centennial Fair, Philadelphia, and later at Mechanics' Fair, this city. Her reputation ranks among the highest, and is world-wide:

To whom it may concern. This is to certify that I have had in use in my kitchen, during the continuance of the Fair, one of Dr. Hale's Champion Steam Cookers, and have found it in every respect as represented. I cheerfully add my testimony in its favor, believing, as I do, that no kitchen should be considered complete without it. MECHANICS' FAIR BUILDING, BOSTON, Nov. 5, 1878.
