PARKS

San Francisco is noted for its beautiful and extensive parks. There are 53 parks and 94 recreational units, with a total acreage of 4450, others are under development. In addition to the municipal parks, the several government reservations, the largest of which is the Presidio, comprising 1542 acres, all go toward augmenting the aggregate area of the city parks. The area given does not include the numerous golf courses in and about the city. More than $15,000,000 has been expended on municipal parks since 1870. All of San Francisco's parks are "man-made." Originally only sand dunes marked the spots where today are gardens of rarest flowers, shrubs and giant trees. Even lakes, streams, waterfalls, hills, valleys and dales were worked out by man, to say

*Insurance premiums and assessments for workers' compensation jumped nearly $20,000,000 between 1941 and 1942, due to developments in war industries in state, while a drop of $11,000,000 occurred in the automobile division.

*One company made a surplus adjustment in excess of $13,000,000 during year.
