

ACAMPO.

Devoe Brothers, blacksmiths
Denehy D. M., blacksmith
Kirkland G., manager for Wm. Kirkland
Kirkland Wm., merchant and agent C. P. railroad
Likens & Denehy, blacksmiths, wagon makers and hardware dealers
Likens S. F., blacksmith and wagon maker
Welch D., saloon keeper
Woods Jno. N., Secretary Grangers' Union, and post master
Youngman Miss, teacher Houston district school

BANTAS,

Originally called Bantas' Station, a frieght and passenger station on the Central Pacific road, west of the San Joaquin river, and 15 miles from Stockton, is a village of some 100 or 150 inhabitants.

Borach & Co., dealers in general merchandise, boots, shoes, and dry goods.
Bricketto G., dealer in general merchandise.
Fox W. M., boot and shoe maker.
Hutchings James O., proprietor Moss Dale Hotel.
Israel Isaac, post master.
Israel W. C., proprietor livery and stage stable.
Jennings G. W., dealer in dry goods.
O'Neal John, blacksmith.
Porter A. J., saloon keeper.
Porter T. G., saloon keeper.
Prather B. F., dry goods dealer.
Strickler Jacob, saloon keeper.
Williams J. L., blacksmith and wagon maker.
Wilson O. H., proprietor Railroad saloon.
Zimmerman & Maje, Farmer's Exchange saloon.