

COLLEGEVILLE

Is situated in a rich and well cultivated farming region, 8 miles south-easterly from Stockton, and has a population of about 100.

Ashley David, blacksmith.

Bacon W., carpenter.

Barr Harrison, laborer.

Buttrick W. H., butcher.

Chidester A., sheep raiser.

Crabbe A., teacher McKamy district school.

Dorsey James, sheep raiser.

Johnson A. C., butcher.

Lawson Andrew, dealer in liquors and general merchandise.

Lewis John, teacher Washington district school.

Minor George, blacksmith and wagon maker.

Theiren Dr., physician.

Woodbridge Miss M. A., teacher Wildwood district school.

---

ELLIS,

A railway station, 21 miles from Stockton, west of the San Joaquin, is situated in the centre of an extensive agricultural district, and is the depot of the Corral Hollow coal mines, with which it is connected by a branch road.

Fabian P. & Co., dealers in general merchandise.

Hay Johh, blacksmith.

Jordan I., engineer C. P. railroad.

Landgraff Charles G., blacksmith and wagon maker.

Ludwig C., proprietor San Joaquin Hotel.

McLean John, proprietor Hennessy House.

Sohn Peter, shoe maker.

Wacksmuth E., proprietor Ellis Hotel.