

TO SUBSCRIBERS

THERE are at present over 166,000 Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company telephones in the cities around the bay. Carefully planned rules are required in order to handle properly the collection of this large number of accounts.

One of the rules which has been found necessary is that if the account is not paid during the month for which the bill is rendered, in accordance with the terms of the contract, the Company cannot continue to furnish service. While the Company is anxious not to cause any patron inconvenience, the large number of accounts handled each month makes it impossible to distinguish between those bills which are unintentionally delayed in payment, and others.

We trust our patrons will appreciate our position in this matter and will cooperate with us by making prompt payment.

ALWAYS GIVE TELEPHONE NUMBERS

WHEN writing to the Company or mailing a check without enclosing the bill, the Telephone Number concerned should be mentioned. This will aid us in giving the matter prompt attention, or in case of payment to give proper credit.
