

DAD uses long distance for business. He, also, enjoys phoning out-of-town relatives and good friends, to talk over old times.

MOM enjoys regular telephone reunions with friends and family. She calls on Sundays and after six on weekdays to take advantage of low Station-to-Station rates.

SIS, who's away at school, phones long distance to keep Mom and Dad posted on all her doings. That way she stays in touch even when she doesn't have time to write.

BROTHER likes to talk to anyone by telephone. Most of all his sister at school and his grandparents. They all enjoy hearing from him.

When you phone it's like being there in person! And you'll be surprised how little it costs to call out of town. Why not try it now!
